Introduction to the Fact Book

I. INTRODUCTION TO THE FACT BOOK

Welcome,

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's Fact Book 1998-1999 is produced by the Office of University Planning, Institutional Research, and Continuous Improvement. The purpose of the Fact Book is to provide users with information regarding the University's academic and administrative operations.

The information contained herein has been compiled from a variety of documented sources from July 1998 through March 1999. In addition, pertinent definitions can be located in the glossary section. All data presented is based on Fall 1998 figures, unless otherwise stated. Our fall enrollment file was captured September 22, 1998 at the end of the drop period.

Special appreciation is expressed to all that provided assistance in completing the Fact Book 1998-1999. It is our hope that you will find this edition beneficial to meet your needs.

II. EDINBORO UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA 1998-99 AT A GLANCE

A. MISSION

The primary mission of Edinboro University of Pennsylvania is to develop within its students knowledge, fluency, inquiry, an appreciation of ethical, aesthetic, and cultural values, an understanding of basic scientific principles, and an awareness of international perspectives leading to good and contributive citizenship. As a member institution of the State System of Higher Education, Edinboro University commits itself to the mission of the State System of Higher Education.

The University recognizes its role to provide quality educational, research, and service opportunities to its service region commensurate with its resources. In fulfilling its responsibilities, Edinboro University will:

- offer degree programs at both undergraduate and graduate levels in the disciplines of the liberal arts, teacher education, sciences, management, and technologies. The programs will have a strong component of general education necessary for students to develop an interest in values and to encourage intellectual pursuits, personal development, and a commitment to life-long learning and service.

- provide specialized associate degree and certificate programs to meet the educational, economic, and societal needs of the region in the absence of a community college in northwest Pennsylvania.

- provide opportunities for personal growth through a wide variety of co-curricular and extra-curricular cultural, developmental, and recreational programs, activities, and student organizations.

- encourage matriculation of non-traditional, minority, international students, and students with disabilities through services and cross-cultural exchanges. The University will maintain programs and services which enhance student potential through meeting the specific needs of those faced with disabilities, social or economic deprivation, or inadequate educational preparation.

- provide research, community services, and continuing education programs in accordance with the needs and aspirations of the citizenry and the social, cultural, economic, and technical needs of the region and the Commonwealth.

- develop international relationships with appropriate institutions and agencies for mutual enrichment, promoting education, health services, and technology.

- extend educational opportunities and services to the region through the use of external learning sites and alternative program delivery systems.

- communicate University objectives and achievements to secure external support for institutional priorities.

- maintain an environment that enhances the professional and personal development of students, faculty, and staff.

- provide an environment that ensures fair, just and equitable treatment, and nurtures civility, respect, and dignity for all members of the Edinboro University Community.

C. University

A member of the State System of Higher Education of Pennsylvania, Edinboro University is located in Erie County, rural borough of Edinboro. It is the oldest teacher-training institution in the state west of the Allegheny Mountains. It is the second oldest institution in Pennsylvania. Edinboro Academy was chartered in 1856. Following the passage of the State Normal Act in 1857, the school opened as "Edinboro Normal School" for the preparation of teachers. Under its' original charter, the school was privately administered. In 1861, the Commonwealth chartered it as a state normal school. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania purchased Edinboro in 1914. The state recognized the school as a four-year college in 1926. This title granted Edinboro the right to offer a Bachelor of Science in Education degree in three areas: elementary, secondary, and art education. The name of the institution was changed to Edinboro State College in 1960. University status was given to each of the state colleges in 1983. In addition, a comprehensive Commonwealth University System known as the State System of Higher Education (SSHE) was established.

Of the 7,108 students currently enrolled at Edinboro, 6,445 are undergraduates. Eighty-five percent of our student population attends class on a full-time basis. Edinboro University maintains seven on-campus residence halls for approximately 2,600 students. There are more than 40 buildings situated on its' spacious 585-acre campus, which includes open fields, a lake, and many wooded acres.

Edinboro University in Erie – The Porreco Center, located on West 38th Street in Erie, Pennsylvania, consists of a 27-acre tract of land and buildings. The Porreco Center serves to centralize and expand outreach programs to the greater Erie area. Undergraduate, graduate, and continuing education classes are offered at the center. It includes a conference/convention center, 11 buildings, wooded areas, a pond, orchards, and parking for 164 cars. Newly renovated classrooms and meeting rooms are fully equipped to serve educational programs, social events, or teleconferencing for 5 to 80 people. The Porreco Center can accommodate banquets, buffets, receptions, or light refreshments.

The University of Edinboro is accredited by the Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools, 3624 Market Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104, 215-662-5606. The Commission on Higher Education is an institutional accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Education and the Commission on Recognition of Postsecondary Accreditation.

Other University accreditation and program approvals include: the Bachelor of Science in Nursing by the National League for Nursing, the Bachelor of Science in Nutrition (CP) by the American Dietetic Association, the Master of Arts in Rehabilitation Counseling by the Council on Rehabilitation Education, the Master of Arts in Speech-Language Pathology by the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association, the Bachelor of Science in Social Work by the Council on Social Work Education, and the Bachelor of Arts in Music by the National Association of Schools of Music. The Pennsylvania State Board of Nursing approves the Bachelor of Science in Nursing program, and the Pennsylvania Department of Education approves the Teacher Certification programs.

D. Location

Edinboro University is located adjacent to the business district of Edinboro, Pennsylvania, near the intersection of Interstates 90 and 79. Passenger services operate on frequent schedules connecting Edinboro with nearby cities and towns. This includes Erie, Pennsylvania's third-largest city. The Erie International Airport on Tom Ridge Field, Amtrak Union Depot, Greyhound Bus Lines and Erie Metropolitan Transit Authority are just 30 minutes away. The community of Edinboro is within walking distance of the campus. It has a population of 7,736 people and eight churches of various denominations.

E. Facilities

The focal point of the campus is the modern seven-story Baron-Forness Library. The restoration and use of two turn-of-the-century structures, Reeder Hall and the Diebold Center for the Performing Arts have maintained the traditions of the past.

The Baron-Forness Library contains over 450,000 bound volumes, more than 1,300,000 microfilm units, an on-line public access catalog, a Kurzweil reader for the visually impaired, interlibrary loan service, a "virtual library tour" that serves as an introduction to library services and resources, and on-line & CD ROM Searching Systems.

Memorial Auditorium, used for lectures, concerts, and stage productions, offers professional sound and lighting systems. The auditorium maintains seating for 875. A major renovation of the facility is expected to begin in the fall of 2000. The third oldest building on the Edinboro campus, the Diebold Center for the Performing Arts, has been recently restored and renovated. In addition to staging local theater productions and hosting visiting theatrical companies, the Diebold Center accommodates guest lecturers, serves as a classroom laboratory/recital hall, and hosts special workshops and continuing education classes. Space within the complex currently functions as a center for senior citizens within the region. These two facilities add a cultural, social, and community dimension to the University.

McComb Fieldhouse contains three basketball courts, a swimming pool with one-meter diving, handball/racquetball courts, a weight room, modern athletic training facilities, and seating for 3,200. The Sox Harrison Stadium, with a seating capacity of 4,500, serves as host to the Fighting Scots football team. In addition, it contains a 400-meter all-weather track as well as special viewing facilities for disabled spectators.

The University Center, also known as the Student Union, is the hub of student interaction. It contains the University Bookstore, several lounges, and a multipurpose room with stage lighting, billiard tables, electronic games, banking facilities, the "Kilt" (an upbeat dining facility), and an office for student government. An addition completed in 1994 expanded office and bookstore facilities, added racquetball courts, an indoor track, a complete fitness center, recreational equipment facilities, an aerobic room, a climbing wall, and a basketball court. These are all for student recreational use.

The Leader Speech, Language, and Hearing Clinic provides services to individuals of all ages with communication impairments. Services include screenings, evaluations, therapy, and training in the areas of fluency, language, articulation, voice, accent modification, hearing-impairment, middle ear disease, phonology, and assistive technology. The clinic is located adjacent to Compton Hall with the Assistive Technology Center located in Compton Hall, Room 102. Although the clinic operates on a fee-for-service basis, fees are waived for full-time EUP students and their dependents. It is also reduced for others who qualify. Graduate students or seniors (under the supervision of licensed speech-language pathologists or audiologists) provide all services. Contact the Clinic at 732-2433 for further information.

The Arts and Sciences Center is currently under construction. This facility will be a centerpiece for the integration of technology in the classroom. Construction is anticipated to be complete by Fall 1999.

Miller Laboratory School is a model program with demonstration classrooms for the education of pre-service teachers, research and curriculum development, observations by in-service professionals, and collaborations with University faculty and local school districts. Content delivery is done through the use of integrated thematic units with a constructivist philosophy. Authentic assessment techniques are used and compiled in a portfolio format. Miller Laboratory School takes pride in delivering instruction using developmentally appropriate practice in a multiage setting.

The Campus Day Care Center's qualified staff provides children, ages 18 months to five years with a safe and healthy environment. The center utilizes various age appropriate activities. These activities are designed to promote children's physical, cognitive, social, and emotional development. Activities are child-centered in order to cultivate feelings of self-worth and independence. Before and after school care is also available for Miller Laboratory School students.

Technology and Communications Center, located in Ross Hall, provides the University with a powerful, flexible, university computer facility, as well as voice communication services. The Center uses Digital VAX-series "super-mini" computers configured in a cluster environment. This supports administrative, instructional, and library systems. In addition, it supports all comprehensive microcomputer facilities and a variety of personal computer and VAX software.

Technology and Communications supports/manages microcomputer labs located in various buildings on the main campus and at the Edinboro University in Erie -- The Porreco Center. These services include a computer lab designed for students with disabilities and a campus-wide network, based on the Ethernet protocol, that connects numerous buildings and the on-line library system. The library system is a result of the dedication to the extension of the University's library resources. It can be accessed from any networked desktop system. The campus network is connected to the State System of Higher Education Central Office and to the other 13 universities. This is made possible via PA-SSHENET, a regional network with a gateway to the national Internet. All students are offered free Internet access.

Other special facilities at Edinboro University include a planetarium, science laboratories, a solar observatory, an instructional TV studio (ETV), and a campus radio station (WFSE). The campus is equipped with special facilities for the program of the Office for Students with Disabilities (OSD). These facilities include specialized computer stations, a living skills laboratory, tutoring services, and full-service residence halls.

B. Technology & Communication Resources - Fall 1998

Technology and Communications is a University-wide function composed of three main areas:

1. Enterprise Systems

Enterprise Systems is responsible for providing mission-critical information services to the University community and is also responsible for system and resource management, enterprise mail, messaging, conferencing systems, web server administration, and intranet development. The Enterprise Systems staff has recently created SCOTS, a web-based interface to student records. SCOTS provides students with access to their academic records, financial and billing information, class schedules, financial aid, and on-line registration. Furthermore, it provides faculty with access to advisee information and access to class rosters.

Edinboro utilizes Digital Equipment Corporation servers for all central-processing purposes. They are interconnected via Digital cluster technology.

Edinboro is currently in the process of upgrading our current information system by implementing the Banner software package from SCT. This path provides a logical transition to a newer system that contains program changes needed for the year 2000 and provides for improved student services. EUP has an extensive set of web pages for both on and off campus students. Students and employees are provided with tools and techniques for creating their own web pages.

2. Networks and Telecommunications

Networks and Telecommunications is responsible for university-wide voice communications services and the campus networks. Its primary purpose is to provide resilient information networks and to promote and integrate advanced telecommunications techniques throughout the University. The Edinboro campus network is an Ethernet-based network utilizing fiber optic twisted pair and coaxial cabling running the DECnet and TCP/IP protocol suites. The campus network is also connected to the State System of Higher Education and the other 13 State System universities via SSHEnet, a regional network with a gateway to the national Internet.

- 412 Asynchronous connections to central systems
- 2 Buildings connected via multiplexer technology
- 12 Buildings connected via frame relay service
- 14 Buildings connected directly to the campus backbone
- 891 Ethernet Connections

The objectives of our current design plan are to provide transparent voice, video, data and image connections throughout the main campus and to/from Edinboro University in Erie - The Porreco Center, SSHEnet II and the Internet VLANs (Virtual LANs) are objectives in our current design plan.

3. Desktop Systems & Learning Technology

Desktop Systems & Learning Technology supports and manages microcomputer facilities for teaching and learning, distance education services, a television and media services function, and the Help Desk, which provides a single point of contact for the campus community to receive assistance with computer and peripheral related problems or questions.

Several ethernet-based local area networks run the Windows NT network operating system using the TCP-IP protocol. These LANs connect to the campus network with one Pentium NT authentication server that currently provides authentication services to 15 computer labs and three Pentium NT application servers that provide file and print services to four computer labs.

The purpose of the laboratories is to gain practical experience in microcomputer applications and learn how technology is utilized within particular disciplines. Programs available include spreadsheets, database management, graphics, various programming languages, word processing, and VAX to micro file transfer. VAX e-mail, Netscape email, and Internet access are also available in certain labs. A computer lab also exists for students with disabilities. All students automatically receive network accounts at the beginning of each semester in order to access these facilites and services. Facilities at time of 11/98 include:

Computer Labs:

20 University (general access) labs located in seven buildings on campus
1 University lab located at the Porreco Center

Number of university computers (including labs) based on type:

976 DOS/Windows
349 Macintosh
202 VT Terminals
48 Apple II series
16 Other
7 Amigas

The Office of Distance Education and Multimedia Services is a comprehensive support unit that provides distance education, media resources, and services to students, faculty, staff, and management in support of their respective needs and missions. It provides equipment distribution and repair services campus wide. The television studio facilities have been used to promote the University and to teach courses for the Speech and Communications Department and in association with the Edinboro News Network (ETV). Integrative video conferencing facilities are available for classes and conferences. Courses provided in this mode are connected to students in remote locations such as Warren, PA and to regional High schools.

Equipment:

16mm Projectors	Overheads	Slide Viewers
Film Strip Projectors	Opaque Projectors	Tape Recorders
PA Systems	Screens	TVs
TV/VCR Combos	Camcorders	Tripods
Microphones	Slide Projectors	VCR
Digital Cameras	Record Players	Large Screen Video Projectors

Glossary

XVI. Glossary

Articulation Agreement* - Letters of understanding which facilitate the transfer of credits by students between high schools, community colleges, colleges, and universities.

Associate's Degree* - An award that normally requires at least two but less than four years of full-time equivalent college level work. Degree types used in this document: AA and AS.

Bachelor's Degree - An award that normally requires at least four, but no more than five, years of full-time equivalent college-level work. Degree types used in this document: BA, BS, BSED, BSN, and BFA.

Certification Program - A program of study that leads to certification. Certifications are offered at the undergraduate and graduate level. The degree types used in this document: AC, CR, and TC.

Advanced Certificate (AC) is awarded by an outside agency. Application for certification must be filed with the outside agency.

A certificate (CR) is awarded by Edinboro University of Pennsylvania.

Teaching Certificate (TC) is awarded by the Pennsylvania Department of Education (PDE). Application for certification must be filed with the PDE.

County* - County within the state of Pennsylvania for which the student resided when first admitted to the university.

Ethnic Categories* - Categories used to describe groups to which individuals belong, identify with, or belong in the eyes of the community. These categories do not denote scientific definitions of anthropological origins. A person may be counted in only one ethnic category. The groups used to categorize U.S. citizens, resident aliens, and other eligible non-citizens are as follows:

American Indian or Alaskan Native: A person having origins in any of the native peoples of North America and who maintain cultural identification through tribal affiliation or community recognition.

Asian or Pacific Islander: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of the Far East, Southeast Asia, the Indian subcontinent, or Pacific Islands.

Black, Non-Hispanic: A person having origins in any of the black groups of Africa.

Hispanic: A person of Mexican, Puerto Rican, Cuban, Central or South American or other Spanish culture or origin.

White, Non-Hispanic: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of Europe, North Africa, or the Middle East.

Non-Resident Alien: A person who is not a citizen or national of the United States and who is in this country on a visa or temporary basis and does not have the right to remain indefinitely.

Unspecified: Ethnic category not supplied or specified on application forms.

Class Standing - Freshmen: Undergraduate credits earned 0-31.
Sophomore: Undergraduate credits earned 32-63.
Junior: Undergraduate credits earned 64-95.
Senior: Undergraduate credits earned 96-128+.

Full-time Equivalency (FTE)* - A measure that combines full-time and part-time student credit loads or faculty and staff workloads and equates those to a full-time number by using the following formulas. Undergraduate FTE is equal to the total number of credits enrolled/30 for academic year. Graduate FTE is equal to the total number of credits enrolled/24 for academic year.

Full-time Status - Undergraduate student credit load is equal to or greater than 12 credits/semester.
Graduate student credit load is equal to or greater than 9 credits/semester.
Faculty and staff workload is equal to 37.5 hours workweek

Graduate Student* - A student who holds at least a bachelor's or first professional degree and is enrolled at the post-baccalaureate level. This includes non-degree students in graduate courses who may or may not be admitted to a graduate program.

Master's Degree - Successful completion of a graduate program that consists of one or more years of post-baccalaureate work. Degree types used in this document: MA, MFA, MSN, and MED.

Part-time Status - Undergraduate student credit load is equal to or less than 12 credits/semester.
Graduate student credit load is equal to or less than 9 credits/semester.
Faculty and staff workload is less than 37.5-hour workweek.

Residence Status - Off Campus: A student who temporarily resides away from their primary residence to attend classes on campus. Housing typically involves apartment rental within the community in which the campus is located.
Commuter Student: A student who resides off campus in housing that is not owned by, operated by, or affiliated with the college. This category includes students that commute from their primary residence.
Residence Hall: A student who resides in housing that is owned by, operated by, and/or affiliated with the college. This setting is typically a dorm room located on campus.

Square Foot*- A unit of measurement used to determine the space available within a given set of parameters.

Undergraduate Student* - A student enrolled in a bachelor's degree program, in an associate's degree program, or a non-degree seeking student matriculated in a lower or upper division course.
